Visual illusions competition winners announced:

OmniBrain has alerted me to the fact that the winners of the 2007 Visual Illusion contest have been announced, with all of the top ten entries viewable online.

Most of the entries are animated and range from the striking to the subtle.

My favourite is the one pictured, simple but effective, which you really need to see in action to get the full effect.

There's many more at the link below, most with psychological explanations of how they work.
